These days the young generation has to face a lot of psychological difficulties, especially in the school environment. The main goal of this project is to create a friendly atmosphere in a most private place where young users can go - the bathroom. Safety appears in two dimensions - hygienic and psychological. Hygienic safety is provided by an interface that is duplicated to be used by feet push - you can open the door, close it and use a toilet without touching anything with your hand. Psychological safety is provided by calm, round aesthetics and sound-absorbent panels that divide this environment from other spaces.
